6. STUDENT INDUCTION, SUPPORT AND DEVELOPMENT (in order to deliver the year learning outcomes)

Student support and induction takes place at both the programme and college level.

Programme level:

- Students receive a Student Handbook (which includes briefs, module and assessment information) at Registration.
- Each module throughout the programme is introduced with a briefing by the module coordinator.
- Each student is allocated a personal tutor from the programme team, to provide both academic and pastoral support.
- Peer learning and mentoring, both within a year group and programme and between year groups and programmes, are intrinsic to the programme's learning and teaching strategy.
- Students receive written feedback on all assessment tasks, and are debriefed in a tutorial following the majority of practical projects, to encourage reflection on practice and to identify future learning goals.

College level:

- A Student Counsellor is available to all students.
- A Disability Officer is available to all students (students are contacted at admissions stage and invited to disclose any disabilities).
- Dyslexia support is available.
- Students take part in the College's Personal Development Planning scheme. At four points during the programme, students discuss their personal and professional development with a programme tutor, and plan future action.
- Ongoing study support is provided through one-to-one tutorials with a specialist tutor, and through on-line support materials.
- Placements(if applicable) operate within the College's Placement Policy, to ensure that students, employers and tutors have a common understanding of the purpose of the placement and of their various responsibilities.

The programme is designed to be developmental; each successive level represents a distinct phase in the student's development, and the level ILO's reflect this. At Level 1, induction and study support equip students for degree-level study, while regular tutor contact with core programme staff ensures that students are aided in putting all aspects of their studies into the context of the live performance industry and their developing professional practice. At Level 2, projects are more complex and demand greater personal responsibility; associated tutorials not only guide students through projects but also encourage reflection and contextualisation. Placements and studies of a variety of industry contexts enable students to assess the appropriateness of different approaches to given situations. At Level 3, students are expected to be self-directed learners; again regular tutorials associated with specific projects guide the student and ensure that learning is appropriately contextualised.

Through all three levels, Personal Development Planning frames students' learning in individual and professional terms.
